PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Motivated and hardworking aspiring Full-Stack Developer with strong interest in software development and building real-world web applications. I enjoy solving problems, learning new technologies, and creating responsive, user-friendly applications.

Currently strengthening my skills in JavaScript, React.js, Node.js, Express.js, and MongoDB through personal projects and practical development work. Comfortable working on both frontend and backend functionality, debugging issues, integrating APIs, and improving user experience.

I'm someone who learns quickly, adapts well to new environments, and works well both independently and in a team. Looking for an opportunity where I can continue growing as a developer while contributing positively to a company and gaining real industry experience.
